BOOK FAIR IS COMING

Scholastic Book Fair is scheduled for April 5th to 12th. See you there!

Thank You Ms. Patricia

Mrs. Patricia Ballantine Ramos is the Children's Librarian at DCPL Capitol View Library. Ms. Patricia visits the EEC for story time on Fridays between 1:30-2:30 for our scholars. She does finger plays, songs and bring books on the topics of the current IB units with our children. You can reach her at patricia.ballentine@dc.gov for current library activities. Thank you for supporting our school.

Celebrations of Learning and Upcoming III Trimester Units

Congratulations family, friends and East End Team for an EXCELLENT end to second Trimester! Looking forward, scholars will be learning about:

- In kindergarten: Sharing the Planet (IB unit); opinion writing AND "how to" (informational writing in French) books (Writers' Workshop), and; word problems, adding and subtracting to 20 as well as looking at data (math).
- In Pre-Kindergarten: Who We Are (IB unit) – Exercise and good nutrition keeps people's bodies healthy.

DC Public Charter School Board's School Photo Project Is Coming to Stokes School – East End Campus

Next week, Ann-Marie VanTassel, a photographer working with DCPCSB, will be coming to the school to add pictures of our campus to their ongoing photo project about charter schools in DC.

Meet Our East End Team

Mrs. Adrienne Waters is a newlywed! She is our Pre K English teacher and is a graduate of Howard University. Originally from Augusta, GA, she has lived in the District of Columbia for the past 10 years. Three things she would like you to know about her are; she enjoys baking brownies, she LOVES to eat and she enjoys the arts, especially dance and music. Ms. Adrienne loves teaching and her favorite class to teach is cooking. She believes in teaching to the whole child and that every student can learn.
