English Language Arts

This week in Reading, we learned to use context clues to solve tricky words.

In Phonics, we celebrated all of the snap words that we know and practiced using them to write new words.

Units of Inquiry

This week, students finalized, tested, refined and presented their communication devices.

Math

This week in math, we continued our unit on surveys and data collection. The students presented different representations of data sets. They also interpreted their data.

Mindfulness and Kindness

This week, we shared our own breathing techniques and did our gratefulness practice.
